

Cisco Systems IP Convergence Workshops

IP Telephony Thursdays

Your business is growing. Your business is moving. Your lease is expiring on your phone system. All of these are perfect reasons to replace your outdated phone system with an integrated communications solution that will enhance productivity and save your business money starting now. In fact, in a survey of over 1800 customers, most found their Cisco Voice Solutions paid for itself in 16 to 18 months. Now might be the perfect opportunity to prepare your business for the future too.

Cisco Voice Solutions help your business save dramatically by providing one network for both phones and computers. This means reduced maintenance expenses, less ongoing training, and considerable savings on travel expenses.

Cisco now has a 0% leasing option when you lease Cisco equipment on a monthly basis! Want to get something back for that outdated phone system? Cisco also has a new customer trade-in program for businesses that own their equipment!
